

I'm writing to share my support of K-LOVE in my local community. I like the programming it overs as a translator station. Because it is a "national" broadcast through translators, it brings a broader perspective in its programming that would not be the case with a local station or through a LPFM station.